

Is it

reasonable to believe in God?

Reason 2: Right & wrong

Technical term:

'The moral argument
for the existence of God'

Chocolate?
What Chocolate?!

How am I going to explain this one?

Don't interrupt
my nap time!!

He did it!!

It's not fair!!

We all talk about things
as “right” and “wrong”

If there is no God, and
we're here by accident,
'right' and 'wrong' don't really exist.

Where there are rules
there must be someone who made those rules.

It's reasonable to believe there's a God because:
'right' and 'wrong' are real.
